Reasonable Accommodation Policy. Federal agencies must provide reasonable accommodation to applicants with disabilities where appropriate. A reasonable accommodation is any change to a job, the work environment, or the way things are usually done that enables an individual with a disability to apply for a job, perform job duties or receive equal access to job benefits. Determinations on requests for reasonable accommodation will be made on a case-by-case basis. Under the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, federal agencies must provide reasonable accommodations when: An employee with a disability needs an accommodation to perform the essential job duties or to gain access to the workplace. You can request a reasonable accommodation at any time during the application or hiring process or while on the job.

120-Day Register. Schedule A (Individuals with Targeted Disabilities) or 30% Vets. Applications may be provided to selecting officials in a batch. Applications resulting in a non-selection, other than not meeting the best qualified threshold, will be closed. Otherwise, application packages will remain in the “active” queue for consideration for the specific position requested for up to 120 days. (a). During that same time, applicants deemed qualified, may be referred for consideration for like-vacancies (with the same occupational series and grade). (b). Applicants being referred for positions other than the one originally requested, the applicant will be advised prior to CPS forwarding the package to the selecting official, giving the applicant an opportunity to withdraw consideration.

Direct Hire Authority: Exception: While Schedule A (Individuals with Targeted Disabilities) or 30% Vets candidates are highly encouraged to apply on USAJobs, locally received applications received prior to the announcement closing date will be vetted prior to the receiving a certificate of candidates.
